

BREATHE EASIER. Get screened for lung cancer.

Cost-effective, quality care is available. Take advantage of our low-dose CT scan offer.

Some insurers are covering the cost of this lung cancer screening, but many others are not.

If your insurance does not cover this screening, you might have to pay for the test on your own. We offer a low-dose CT scan for $260, which includes the cost of the screening and the radiologist's reading fee.

Are you a current or former smoker, aged 55 or older?

It may be time to get your lungs checked for evidence of lung cancer.

Lung cancer is the leading cause of cancer death for both men and women in the United States, yet there has been no good way to catch the disease early ... until now.

Guidelines from The American Lung Association suggest that a low-dose CT scan may successfully detect cancer early, when it can be treated more successfully. In fact, the National Cancer Institute found that screening heavy smokers using a low-dose CT scan may reduce the risk of death due to lung cancer by 20 percent compared with screening using standard X-rays.
